The “leather of the future,” Futura is a milled patent leather made specifically for upholstery. Both “retro” yet futuristic, this lightly-textured, ultra-sheen patent leather is cool and sleek, featuring all the benefits of leather: breathability, durability, and versatility. 100% aniline-dyed, Futura is finished with protective agents, making it perfect for high-use, and hospitality settings, especially restaurants. The state-of-the-art milling technique used to create Futura allows it to fold and drape, so that furniture applications are possible.
