

Utah

Textured Distressed

Average Hide Size: 50 s.f.

Average Thickness: 1.4 mm

Average Weight: 3.5 oz.

Cortina has taken a classic “distressed” upholstery leather and made it appear more rugged and textured by using thicker raw material. These pure aniline hides are treated with an application of paraffin and then dry-milled to produce a cozy, comfortable look. Its surface will lighten and darken with use, and will become more distressed with time. Also referred to as “pull-up” leather, Utah is among the least protected leathers, a factor which contributes to its ability to age with use.
